Who is Fadi..

Fadi is a world-renowned thought leader in Transformation Management and one of the most recognized purveyors of the idea of reshaping the corporate mindset in order to achieve unbridled success. He is what one would call an expert on human potential and brings with him over 25 years of international corporate experience and a dynamic background in Corporate Human Resources Management.

Fadi specializes in helping individual professionals who feel stuck in their careers; and those who struggle with being seen and heard. Fadi works closely with people who build a career and life on their-own-terms that is influential, thriving, and rooted in emotional intelligence for true optimal success.

Imagine an organization, made up of individuals who not only understand how the secrets to success work – they live and breathe them. How unstoppable would this company be? This business would be the gold standard – proficient, innovative and capable of transforming each challenge into one more strength – the sine qua non of the corporate world. Fadi helps companies who struggle with communication, team management, and workplace culture, develop strong leaders, emotional intelligence, and a thriving workplace. This is exactly the reality that Fadi is creating, one individual and one company at a time.
